CAI Logistics provides transportation services through domestic rail, truck brokerage, ocean and air freight, and is focused on serving clients in all verticals shipping within, out of, or in to North America. This year marks CAI Logistics first appearance at RILAs annual conference scheduled for February 24-27 in Orlando, Florida. Interested customers in attendance can visit CAI Logistics' representatives at Booth 427 for additional information.

"Since uniting our company's logistics services under one brand name in July of 2018, CAI Logistics has experienced tremendous growth," said Janet Papworth, President, CAI Logistics North America. "We are incredibly excited to participate in LINK 2019 this year, connect with our industry peers, showcase our end-to-end supply chain capabilities, and continue our upward trajectory."

CAI Logistics has experienced double-digit expansion in 2018, driven by demand for truck brokerage and intermodal services. On the heels of 2018's success, CAI Logistics is scheduled to open a Chicago office in the spring of 2019, to round out its extensive regional office network. The new location will allow CAI to better service its customers in the largest freight market in North America.
